

RULES FOR THE OPERATION OF THE REMOTE EQUIPMENT

1. Two authorized DJ's must operate the remote at all times.
2. Only the two chosen DJ's are authorized to operate the remote and will be held responsible for any damages which they incur to WVBU property. (The purchaser is responsible for any damages incurred due to guest irresponsibility.)
3. The use of drugs or alcohol by either of the DJ's during the engagement is strictly forbidden.
4. All remote equipment and records must be returned to the station's tech room in the basement of Roberts the night of the engagement. DJ's will be provided with the necessary keys, which are to be returned to Will Taylor no later than the evening following the engagement.
5. All equipment should be replaced in the same condition it was received. Please point out any necessary repairs to Will Taylor the following day.
6. Any misuse of the remote equipment or infraction of the above rules will result in charges and/or the loss of remote privileges for thirteen weeks, excluding vacation time.

I have read and do understand the above stipulations.

WVBU STATION POLICY

The following station policy was drawn up and passed by WVBU's board members on February 8, 1990. All of the following rules and discipline policies are effective immediately.

Format

Each DJ must play at least four songs a show from the playlist of the month, regardless of the type of music generally played during that slot. Failure to follow format will result in the following:

First offence: written warning

Second offence: drop 10 spots on the seniority list

Third offence: drop 15 more spots on the seniority list

Fourth offence: loss of your show for the semester

Morality

Each DJ is responsible for anything that happens while they are on the air, including anything said or done by guests in the studio. The FCC has a strict policy against the use of obscenities on the air and will revoke our licence should they hear anything! It is also illegal to drink alcohol in the station. Discipline for the above infractions will vary depending on the situation, but as a general guideline, it will be as follows:

First offence: written warning

Second offence: loss of your show for the semester

No-Show

Missing a show without getting a replacement creates bad feelings between the DJ before or after you, and makes the station sound very unprofessional. This is inexcusable and will not be tolerated. Failure to find a replacement, or notify a board member within 24 hours of your time slot, will be considered a "bagged" show and will result in the following:

First offence 2nd semester seniors: loss of your show

First offence all others: drop half way down on the seniority list

Second offence: loss of your show for the semester

These rules are really just common sense and should not be hard to follow. Remember: there are many more DJ's than times slots and it will be very easy to replace problem people.
